The Australian Ceramics Association (TACA) is a national, non-profit organisation representing the interests of practising professional ceramicists, students of ceramics and all those interested in Australian ceramics. It recognises all expressions of ceramic practice and aims to support and promote Australian ceramic art and professional ceramic practice nationally and internationally. TACA incorporates the Australian Ceramics Alliance which specifically lobbies for quality ceramics education, nationally. TACA was formed in 1956 as The Potter's Society of Australia, the first ceramics organisation in Australia. Individual ceramicists, potters and craft practitioners are encouraged to join so that it can best represent the interests of the sector at a national level. Membership is annual.
If you require information on the benefits of membership, please call the office or visit our website at www.australianceramics.com.

ENJOY THE BENEFITS OF BEING A MEMBER:

• 3 issue subscription to "The Journal of Australian Ceramics" • 6 issues of TACA's bi-monthly enews "Australian Ceramics - In Touch" • Free advertising in "Australian Ceramics - In Touch" • Free artist listing on the online Australian Ceramics Directory • Discounts on TACA workshops • Opportunity to participate in TACA's biennial national exhibition at Manly Art Gallery and Museum • Opportunities to meet other ceramic artists and collectors • 12 months Product, Public and Tenants Liability Insurance (optional)
