The Journal of Australian Ceramics (formerly known as Pottery in Australia) celebrated 60 years of continuous publication in 2022. As Australia's most widely read ceramics magazine it is a valuable ongoing information resource for professional and amateur ceramicists, students, curators, arts administrators, buyers and collectors. We remain the only print publication dedicated to ceramics in Australia, now 65 years old!

Thank you for your support of our Journal. We look forward to promoting you as a stockist through our online channels. Be sure to use the hashtag #australianceramics so we can follow your activities.
